

AHCT HESSE GRANT

CALL FOR GRADUATE STUDENT PAPERS

The Association of Hispanic Classical Theater (AHCT) is pleased to announce the annual Hesse Grant competition, designed to support emerging scholars in the field of early modern Hispanic theater and performance studies.

The AHCT is committed to fostering excellence in scholarship and supporting the professional development of emerging scholars in our field.

We look forward to receiving your innovative research contributions.

ABOUT THE GRANT

The Hesse Grant was established in honor of AHCT founder Everett Hesse to recognize outstanding scholarship by graduate students working on early modern Hispanic theater and performance studies. This award sponsors a one-year membership to the AHCT along with conference registration for the recipient to present their winning paper at the upcoming AHCT conference (September 17-19, 2026).

As part of their annual membership, the grant winner will also receive a copy of the next issue of Comedia Performance, the journal of the association. In keeping with AHCT's mission of mentorship and collaboration, the evaluation panel provides constructive feedback on all submissions to support students as they develop their projects for conference presentation and potential publication. The winning paper will be considered for publication in Comedia Performance.
